disease. Physicians cure by a new treatment.

These Pills, even after they have been pronounced by the medical profession of this land, twenty years' standing, irreparable, and whose patients are partially insane, are now being resorted to for sound health by Dr. James.

With Dr. James' remedies Consumption is no longer an irreparable disease. When patients have lost the use of one entire lung they can be restored to good health, so that such persons can attend to their occupations with great success to themselves for many years, and ultimately free of other diseases.

1861 was to certify that during the winter of 1860 I was taken with a weakness of the system, and a feeling of being oppressed, attended to my knees, and on up to my thighs. I became so weak that I could not stand, but was confined to my bed for two or three weeks. While this weakness lasted, I was unable to move, and, afterwards, I sought in vain for relief, employing, at different times, the services of a physician, and of a number of friends, but of no avail. I continued to get worse and worse, until the summer of 1863, when I was induced to try the Shoshonee Balm. After using the same, I was enabled to perform, in a pamphlet. At this time began to feel the weakness in my hands. I was getting better, and was enabled to take two bottles of the Shoshonee Balm, and two boxes of the pills and I am now restored to health. I never again experienced the weakness, and I am now as well as before. This case of mine was price one, but know to tell my neighbors friends; and to say one to my Shoalness Remedy. I believe I will sworn to before me at Wood, Conn.
